

The official United Nations Seal, approved by the General Assembly in 1946, represents a map of the world, as seen from the North Pole, surrounded by olive branches. Centered on the Greenwich Meridian, it extends to 60 degrees latitude South. The map is inscribed in gold on a field of smoke-blue. Water areas are white. The seal, or emblem, is also featured in the United Nations flag, etched in white in the center of a smoke-blue field.

Ho, hum! That old sales tax amendment is back on the ballot. School teachers, city employees and township officials want to keep the diversion amendment in the constitution. They are campaigning vigorously to roll up a big "No" vote. Teachers and city employees have a direct pocket-book interest in the outcome, for the amendment would keep a steady flow of sales tax dollars coming back to school and city treasuries.

Contrasted to this, the taxpayer is yet to be convinced that school, city and state government needs cannot be adequately financed out of present taxes. Price inflation is yet running strong, and the cry of state officials that the "wolf" was at the door (a deficit in the Lansing kitty) has been repeatedly contradicted by new all-time highs in collection of taxes. The latest estimate puts the 1948 tax aggregate in the neighborhood of $200,000,000—just $5,000,000 more than state experts thought the state could possibly collect.

Early in 1947 Governor Sigler asked the state legislature to place the issue of an amendment repealing the 1948 general ballot. Later the governor changed his mind, convinced that only a whopping deficit in the state treasury could turn the tide of public opinion. He then advised the calling of a constitutional convention plus other reforms designed to "streamline" state government. While the legislature did not remove the repeal proposal from the ballot, it did add the substitute call for revision of the entire state constitution.

The situation hereby has developed where state officials do not expect a majority of voters to vote "Yes" on the repeal amendment—No. 2 on the special ballot. Three groups are campaigning for a "No": School teachers, city employees and township officials. No organized drive is in sight to get out a "Yes" vote.

Even former Lieutenant Governor Vernor J. Brown concedes that an "overwhelming negative vote can be expected."

Brown feels that the "cities of the state have suffered long at the hands of a legislature made up largely of members from rural sections." He continues: "Year after year and session after session city mayors, councilmen and managers; public works engineers and superintendents; controllers and treasurers; and citizens of cities where adequate city services were impossible to provide from the property tax alone, sought help in Lansing. Consistently they were turned aside and sent home empty-handed. They were even denied the authority to levy excise taxes to help out in meeting the cost of essential services within the cities. None can complain too bitterly that once they got their 'mad-up' these city folks dipped too deeply into state funds. Neither can the school teachers be condemned for helping themselves."

It is admittedly difficult to explain bookkeeping matters to the average citizen. This is especially true about the state treasury's "surplus." Funds earmarked for future expenditure become a part of the cash balance in the treasury. When the legislature wound up its 1948 affairs, there was a difference of $35.3 millions between anticipated 1948-49 revenues (July 1, 1948 to July 1, 1949) and the legislature's 1948-49 appropriations.

However, the state had a $23 million "surplus"—now you have it and now you don't—left over from previous years.

Auditor General Muriel K. Aten has reported an annual balance of $10.6 million at the end of the 1947-48 revenue-expenditure period.

And so, as long as inflation keeps booming and taxes keep mounting, everything may appear to be rosy in Lansing. When deflation sets in, trouble is inevitable. But that is "tomorrow," and why worry about fixing the roof as long as it isn't raining?

Plan Jamboree For Bow Hunters

A special committee of the Grayling Sportsmen's Club is hard at work on plans for a Grayling Bow Hunter's Jamboree which is planned for Saturday, October 30.

The get together will be held at the Winter Sports Park and a large crowd of bow hunters from all over the state is expected to be on hand. Plans call for a field shoot competition, an archery exhibition and movies. An entrance fee will be charged which will cover all of the events.

One of the planned high points of the jamboree will be the serving of bear meat at the dinner. The bear was donated to the club by Fred Bromwell of Camp Arrowhead on the Manistee who downed the bear last week with archery equipment.

Radio Star To Appear At School

Fred Thomas, a National Broadcasting Company baritone, will appear at Grayling High School on Wednesday, October 27 at 11 A. M. Mr. Thomas is to appear in an evening concert at Petoskey that evening, and the policy of the American-Civic Concert and Lecture Company under whose sponsorship he is appearing, is bringing day time concerts to the school children of nearby communities during the day.

"Our organization is co-operating with the educators of the nation, who feel there is a crying need to bring music to the school children of America. These children are the future concert and operatic audiences of tomorrow," a company official said.

Puffer, will bring the first of a series of sermons on the Bible, using as his topic, "The Word of Power for a Power Age." These services will be full of emotional warmth and fervor. MARINES GET THE SWING OF IT... This sort of thing might be all right for circus acrobats and people lost at sea in life rafts, but it is not recommended as a diversion for the average man who likes to have his pipe and slippers brought to him in the evening. This particular stunt was carried out by marines at Quantico, Va., as a demonstration of the marine corps' new air-sea rescue technique. Hazardous though it may seem, a demonstration of air-sea rescue is still better than staying on the raft. Further demonstrations of air-sea rescue were held in connection with the 36th anniversary of the marine corps aviation section.

Local Archers Bag Deer, Bear

Local bow-hunters are having fairly good success bagging game with their archery equipment.

The most notable kill was a black bear weighing 200 pounds. Fred Bromwell, Manistee River guide and operator of Camp Arrowhead downed the big black fellow last week Thursday near the Manistee River south of M-72. Fred donated the bear to the Grayling Sportsmen's Club who will serve bear meat at their Bow Hunter's Jamboree.

Among those to click with bow and arrow for their deer are Roy Stevenson, Bob Mosker, Frank Scott, Jim Baker and Floyd Davis.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Rev. R. C. Puffer was the speaker Monday evening at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling. He was introduced by Vice President Earl Burns, who was in charge of the program.

Rev. Puffer read to the club an article by Roy L. Smith from the October Kiwanis Magazine entitled "Beliefs and Survival." Mr. Smith is the editor of the Christian Advocate and a Methodist minister.

Following the reading of the article, Rev. Puffer spoke pointing out some of the false beliefs of a large section of the American people and drew some points affecting human relations because of the false belief.

The club voted at their meeting to sponsor a Football Banquet on Tuesday evening, December 7 for the Grayling School squad and their fathers. Coach Joe Bogart has announced that he has secured Kip Taylor, assistant football coach at Michigan State College to speak that evening.

JOIN THE P. T. A.

The membership drive for P. T. A. members will be held all during the month of October. The association would like all new comers to come out and sign up at the next regular P. T. A. meeting which will be held at the school Wednesday evening, October 27.

A new project is planned this year. A room prize of $1.00 will be given to the room to be used as the grade wishes which has the biggest representation of parents.

If you are unable to attend the meeting but want to join the P. T. A., phone Mrs. Van Smith, at 4140.

"Why?" you ask.

"Why am I needed in the P. T. A.?" "What can I do that millions of other members aren't doing or haven't done?"

Here's the answer:

The P. T. A. Needs You Because It Needs

Your Ideas. Your Interest. Your Zeal. Your strength. Your Support. Our Co-operation.

The P. T. A. Needs You Whether You're

A mother. A father. A teacher. Or any other civic-minded adult.

You Are Needed in the P. T. A. Because:

Children's needs won't wait. It doesn't take long to grow up. And growing up under undesirable conditions means tragedy to the child and loss to the nation. By joining forces with others who care about what happens to the rising generation of Americans YOU can help to overcome these unwholesome influences.

Many heads are better than one. The P. T. A. is a democratic organization.

Meeting Subject Is New Fabric Finishes

New finishes for fabrics is the subject of an open meeting for all members and leaders of the Home Economics Extension groups of Crawford County, to be held on November 4, at the Grange Hall at 1:30 P. M.

Mrs. Virginia Vance, District Home Demonstration Agent, announces that this meeting has been planned to give all extension group members an opportunity to hear this important topic discussed by Lois Belle Green, clothing specialist from Michigan State College.

Many women over the county have asked that information on use and care of new textiles be included in the extension program this year.

What about unshrinkable wools, water repellants, and flame-proof fabrics, for example?

Miss Green will discuss these many other new fabrics and finishes, and will show samples of fabrics treated with special finishes.

Anyone who is interested is welcome to attend this meeting, which is a part of the county home economics extension program.

Wave Faces Harbor Springs As Season Begins To Fade

Still Seeking The Second Grid Victory

If the Grayling Green Wave can show the fight and improvement this Friday afternoon at Harbor Springs that they displayed on the local field last Friday against East Jordan, they should come home with victory number 2 of the 1948 season safely tucked under their belts.

A victory over East Jordan was lost by a scant 3 yards and a few seconds as the game ended with Grayling on the doorstep of a second touchdown that would have given them the game by one point.

The loss, however, was still a moral victory as the Jordanites had held the powerful Charlevoix Rayders to a scoreless tie the week previous.

FORMER RESIDENTS HAVE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Rolla W. Brink former residents here observed their 50th wedding anniversary recently in Bartow, Florida, where they have lived for the past three years in a trailer camp. They expect to build a permanent home in Bartow.

The Brinks left Grayling for Bay City some twenty-five years ago. Mr. Brink operated a grocery store here in the building, where the Hayes Upholstery Shop is now located.

A reception honoring the couple was held in the Community House of the trailer park where they reside. Among the guests were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. Francis Hyatt of Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Hyatt is a former Bay City Times staff member. Other guests were Mrs. Brink's niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Mayburn of Rome, Ga.

She also received a citation for the Grayling unit for the unit reaching its goal on membership. There are now 62 members in the unit. The district meeting is to be held in Grayling, November 28. The next meeting will be a social meeting, on October 26, with the following members on the committees: Mrs. Margaret Tinker, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Amy Gotro and Mrs. Lucille Thompson. The auxiliary would like to see all the old and new members at this party.

At these meetings interesting facts and figures will be discussed by official parties recently returned from the Miami National Convention. Listed are the following places nearest this unit. November 7th, East Jordan, 2 P. M., Legion home, Mrs. Hilda Bathke, president. November 8th, West Branch, 2 P. M., Community building, Mrs. Clarice Sockos president.

Kill Rats - Clean Up Yards County Agent Advises

The war on rats in Kalkaska and Crawford Counties will feature the distribution of poison bait throughout this county on Friday, November 5th. The school people are co-operating and the campaign will be run through all schools in the county.

Now is the time to give the "one-two punch" by destroying as many of the rats as possible by poisoning. It also helps to take away the food and shelter they need during the winter.

Arrangements have been made to obtain the ready mixed bait at non-profit cost of 50 cents per package which is enough for most farms and homes. This bait contains one-half pound of meat and one-half pound of fish which should make a splendid meal for our star boarders. The bait is for townpeople as well as farms so if the boys or girls happen to miss you it is advisable to call at the school where your order will be taken.

The bait will be available only for this campaign and to those who order now. No orders will be taken after Thursday, October 28.

Standouts in the Grayling lineup were Vic Papendick, Bob Lozon, John Krage and Axel Peterson in the line. These boys tore open gapping holes in the East Jordan line on offense and "Bull" Bill Worden, playing his second game as fullback where he was shifted from center, ripped and roared through into the visitor's secondary. Worden rolled up 141 yards from scrimmage by himself to aid the Wave as they outthought, out-gained and all but outscored the conference's, at least second place team, and quite possibly a team that will share the loop crown with Charlevoix.

On defense, the team played rough and rugged football yielding yardage grudgingly to the East Jordan offensive. Although East Jordan scored two touchdowns, they were never able to run the ball across that last white line. One score was made on a pass play on last down as the Grayling defense held the visitors for three straight downs without giving a yard. The other score was made from a fumble that rolled over the goal line and was recovered by an East Jordan player.

As time began to run out with the score standing 12 to 7 in East Jordan's favor, Jack Trudeau whipped a pass to Carl Hanson which was good for 30 yards and brought the surging Green Wave to the Jordanite's 3 yard line. The Wave was on the march for the winning score when the game ended.

On October 29, the Wave moves to Pellston to windup the 1948 season of football. Although to this point the Wave haven't a win record to point to with pride, the team has steadily moved ahead and has thrown a scare into more than one of the Northern Class "C" conference teams, that were supposed to be more or less strong.

Grayling's steady improvement is a fine tribute to the work of Joe Bogart, the new Wave head mentor and Coach Bruce Smith, his assistant.

MARKBY-BISKNER SPEAK VOWS

Mrs. Grace Markby and Jerry Biskner, both of Grayling were united in marriage on Saturday, October 16, at four o'clock in the afternoon at the Grayling Evangelical Lutheran Church parsonage, Rev. Svend Holm officiated. They were attended by the bride's daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Sterling and son-in-law, Harold John.

Mrs. Biskner chose a royal blue dress for her wedding and wore a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Sterling was attired in a royal blue suit and her flowers were yellow mums.

A wedding supper was served at the Wilbur Sterling home following the ceremony to relatives and a few close friends.

Bow Hunter's Club Formed In Lovells

The bow and arrow hunters out Lovells way have organized a group called the Ausable Bowmen's Club and have to date 78 members, according to their club secretary, Nick Loeffler.

The first Saturday of the season the club had a tournament shoot at which time a deer was harpooned and movies and a dance enjoyed.

The club wishes to thank Fred Bear for his co-operation in furnishing the movies and projector.

Mr. Loeffler and Pearson Spalding are the only Lovells Club members who have bagged their deer to date. The former also shot two rabbits with bow and arrow lately.

William and George Hatfield and Mrs. Elizabeth Cole of Detroit were week end guests at the Harold Hatfield home. All of the men went fishing at Charlevoix and brought back a good catch of perch.

RATS! RATS! RATS!

A few facts about rats are interesting—they will migrate four miles in a week. It takes an estimated 265,000 farmers to produce the food that rats eat and destroy annually. Rats may have three to twelve litters a year with six to twenty-two per litter. The life span of a rat is probably between three and five years.

NEW DEMANDS

48 hours pay for 40 hours work
Penalty pay for weekends & holidays
25¢ an hour increase
Total 1 1/2 BILLION DOLLARS

1 1/2 Billion Dollar Road Block!

Railroads must operate around the clock every day and night of the year.

Although they know this, leaders of 16 railroad unions are demanding a five-day, Monday through Friday, week for one million railroad employees.

They want 48 hours pay for 40 hours work—in itself a 20% wage increase.

They also demand a minimum of 12 hours pay for any work performed on Saturdays, and 16 hours pay for any work performed on Sundays and holidays.

On top of all this they want an additional increase of 26c an hour for every employee!

Summing up these demands, they mean that these union leaders seek to force the railroads to give one million employees an annual raise which would average $1500 per employee!

The total cost of this would be no less than 1 1/2 billion dollars per year, which is more than twice the expected net income of the railroads this year.

You'd pay the bill, because if these increased costs are forced on the railroads, they must have still further rate and fare increases.

Demands Unreasonable

These employees have had substantial raises during and since the war. Their average weekly earnings are higher than the average weekly earnings of workers in manufacturing industries. They have more job security than the average worker in American industry. They also enjoy paid vacations, a retirement system and other advantages more generous than the average worker receives.

In contrast with the demands of these 16 unions, which add up to the equivalent of 48c an hour, the Conductors and Trainmen recently settled their wage request for an increase of 10c an hour.

Railroads Run for Everybody—Not Employees Alone

The railroad industry must serve not one but many groups—producers, businessmen, shippers, passengers and the general public—night and day, every day of the year. These unions are proceeding in utter disregard of this important difference between railroads and other industries. Industrial plants can be shut down over weekends and holidays, but freight, mail, express and passengers must continue to move. Everybody who uses a railroad employment knows this.

Strike Threat

On September 18, 1948, the leaders of these 16 unions began taking a strike vote. But the threat of a strike will not alter the opposition of the railroads to such unreasonable demands!

Twisted Meanings

There is a science called semantics, which has to do with the meaning of words and phrases. An apparently plain statement may mean one thing to one man—and a quite different thing to another. The purpose of semantics, which hasn't made much headway in the world, is to get rid of this confusion, and give words an absolute precision.

This illustrates one of the difficulties which has helped to produce the current crisis between Russia on the one hand and the Western Allies on the other. America and British diplomats have met with Molotov, Stalin and other top Soviet leaders, and have apparently arrived at agreements. That happened at Yalta where, apparently, President Roosevelt came away with an amazingly different idea of what had been agreed upon than that held by Premier Stalin. The same words were used on both sides—but the meanings read into them varied enormously.

In the Moscow conferences over the Berlin blockade the Western representatives thought they had made progress. Our ambassador, General Smith, had little to say for publication, but newsmen reported him cheerful and optimistic after his meetings with Stalin. It is generally believed he was sure that the Berlin blockade about to be lifted. We had made a number of concessions to achieve that end, of which the most important was an agreement to use Russian currency, under four-power control, in the area.

But subsequent Russian actions immediately dissipated our hopes. Regardless of what Stalin said to Ambassador Smith—or what Ambassador Smith thought Stalin meant—the top-level Russians went right ahead with the blockade. And no one believes those Russians did that without explicit instructions from Moscow.

One rather interesting theory as to why Stalin may have changed his mind is finding some currency now.

He is supposed to have received reports that Henry Wallace, with his strong pro-Russian campaign, will get many million votes, become an important minority influence on policy and so be a factor in forcing a change in our attitude which will lead to our withdrawal from Berlin. Certainly, none of the standard American polls indicate it and if they are right, the Wallace vote will be extremely small. And Governor Dewey isn't giving any ground to the Kremlin—he has gone out of his way to praise the American delegation abroad, and to say that the whole country is united behind it. However, it may be that the Russian newsmen and others who report on American activities are very careful to color their summaries so that the top men in Moscow will read what please them most.

Studies Bring New Theory On Smelling

That the sensation of smell is the result of impulses sent out from the smelling organ, as from a radio transmitter, at extremely high frequencies, has been revealed by investigations underway at Yale University in New Haven, Conn. It was formerly thought that "smell" was the result of chemical reactions set up within the organ.

This revolutionary discovery puts smell into the realm of radiation physics. The theory has been developed through highly scientific researches made with the common cockroach and the bat. The high-frequency impulses emanating like one-way radar waves from the nose organ fall within a definite range. Substances falling outside this range, such as the odorless carbon monoxide, cannot be smelled by human beings.

The new concept of smelling is based on the idea that heat moves toward a source of coldness. The nose organ is "hot"; the odorous gas is "cool." As the sense organ loses heat the gas gains it. When a balance is reached we become insensitive to the odor.

Further research is expected to establish a smell spectrum in which the 4000 to 6000 odors detected by the human nose can be plotted. Thus the guesswork can be removed from smelling.

Gun" and "Carousel."

Mr. Thomas, the star of the many seasons on NBC's "Army

Metropolitan Opera House, where he has appeared quite often on the Saturday afternoon Metropolitan

Knowing that many adults of this vicinity would like the opporfor it. The price of tickets for adults will be 75c including tax

Biology Class Visits

Local Fish Hatchery

Last week the biology class of Grayling High School spent its class hour at the local hatchery enjoying Dr. Leonard Allison's lecture on making slides for microscopic study.

Dr. Allison carefully explained each step in making a slide.
We, the biology class and our teacher, Mr. Kumpula, wish to express our appreciation and thank Dr. Allison for this opportunity to visit a modern laboratory and learn some of the techniques being employed.

SHORT STORY

Striving For Class

By AL ARSENAULT

JIM BISHOP flipped the coin at the newsboy and got the same reply he always got.

"Thanks a lot, Mister. You're sure looking good tonight. Must have had a good day at the office."

A good day at the office Jim reflected that it had been a long time since it had been a good day at his office. He knew he was on the ropes, that the boss was only looking for a good excuse to fire him. Then he realized that this newsboy always had given him that same cheerful thank you every time he bought a paper at this spot.

3-Minute Fiction

"Hey, son. What are you always so cheerful about?"

"Why not be cheerful, Mister?" the boy asked seriously. "Seems like things are going all right most of the time, and even when they aren't I know they'll be getting better in a day or so. Ever since I got this corner, I've mostly had good days, so I figure I ought to be nice to the people that make them that way."

"Why is this a good corner, son?"

"Cause all you people coming out of these buildings mostly buy papers, and when you buy papers, I make money. But even if you didn't buy papers, I still like to look at all of you because you look like class. I want to be class some day and come out of a building like that. That's cause enough to be cheerful, isn't it. Just wanting to be class?"

"I guess you're right, kid," said Jim, and walked on to the parking lot where he kept his car.

On the way home he thought again of his own situation. Things hadn't been too good since the new supervisor took over. Jim had thought he was in line for that job. When he hadn't been promoted, it had hurt, had made him bitter about his job.

Then he thought of the newsboy on the corner. Wonder if he was ever bitter. He couldn't be, though. Not the way he always acted cheerful towards everybody. What did he have to be cheerful about? Just a youngster and selling papers on a corner. From the looks of his clothes, he wasn't from even a middle class family. What was that he said, all the people that bought his papers look like class. He wants to be class himself someday. "Just wanting to be class is enough to make you cheerful."

When he got home, his wife met him at the door.

"Jim, it's good to see you. How did things go at the office today?"

"Just so-so."

"Again? Well, they'll improve. How did you get along with the supervisor?"

"Same as usual."

The next night Jim stopped at the same corner to pick up his paper. A new boy was there. Jim flipped

"Things went fine today, honey, just fine," he said firmly. "You know, I think that new supervisor is all right. Maybe he and I are going to get along. There's a new position coming up in the metropolitan department, and a recommendation from him would help me a lot towards getting it."

"Jim, that's good news. I'm so happy dear. I knew you'd keep trying to get ahead."

"It isn't getting ahead, darling. It's trying to be class. That's the thing that makes you cheerful, just wanting to be class," and he grinned down at the startled eyes of his wife.

Proposal Fight Wins Support

Increased support by local and state groups in the campaign to eliminate school fire-traps by a vote of "No" on Proposal 3, and a vote of "Yes" on Proposal 5, on the November ballot, was reported this week by Albert J. Phillips, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association.

A victorious "No" vote on Proposal 2 will permit local schools to continue receiving funds from the sales tax diversion amendment voted by the people of Michigan two years ago.

A successful "Yes" vote on Proposal 5 will allow local school districts and cities to vote school bonds by simple majorities and for periods up to 20 years.

The candidates for Governor of both major political parties, Governor Kim Sigler and C. Mennen Williams, have endorsed the drive for a "No" vote on Proposal 2 and a "Yes" vote on Proposal 5. Among other state organizations, the Michigan Municipal League and the two labor groups, the CIO and the AFL, have also joined the fight on a state and local basis.

"It is very gratifying to see how local organizations of all types are moving into action," commented Phillips, "because we know that it is on the 'grass-root' level this campaign will be won or lost and it is on this level where they feel the need most deeply for adequate schools and teaching staffs."

"For example, the boards of education in Kalamazoo, Cadillac, Saginaw and Monroe, at their latest meetings endorsed the campaign. Also, I understand the city councils in Alpena and Belleville have joined us in this fight to bring state school facilities up to the minimum level so badly needed in so many areas."

The newsboy: "Why not be cheerful, Mister?"

the coin and the boy snapped out with, "Watch it, Mister. I got an armful of papers here."

Where's the other boy? Jim asked.

"Aw, I don't know. He's got himself another job, says he's getting class somewhere. He was a jerk, anyway."

"A jerk?" thought Jim. "A boy that wanted class. He even thought I had class. He figured you could be cheerful because you were trying to get ahead. Now he's gone up another rung."

As he opened the door when he got home, he noticed for the first time that his wife had a worried look when she came to greet him. He looked at her anxious face.

"Cold" Season Has Arrived

"Michigan's first 'cold' wave is here. Avoid the person who sneezes, coughs or has a sore throat as you would poison ivy," Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner advised today.

Colds will cause more absenteeism from school, office and industry during the next few months than all other communicable diseases put together. The average Michigan person will have two or three colds before Easter. Colds usually become widespread about the time cold weather forces people to start heating their homes, schools, office buildings and factories in the fall, and they continue to be prevalent until spring. They decline a bit in December after the first wave has caught most of the susceptibles, and then increase again in the early spring after the short lived immunity of the first siege has worn off.

Colds are caused, not by changes in the weather, but by a filtrable virus, a germ so small that it flies from the mouth of an infected person when he speaks and hitches rides on particles of dust in the air.

The cold virus attacks the mucous membranes of the nose and throat, especially those dried out in overheated rooms. The virus irritates the membranes which secrete an additional supply of mucus in an attempt to get rid of the irritant. This results in congestion, early in the morning, sneezing and coughing, and other involuntary efforts to get rid of the irritant, throw out myriad small droplets of mucus filled with the cold virus. These get on hands, handkerchiefs, pencils, telephones and other articles, and some of them float about on particles of dust in the air.

When the throat and nose are sufficiently irritated and especially if the person is tired, run-down or chilled, other germs may attack in the wake of the cold virus. The thin watery secretion of the cold-infected nose becomes yellow with pus and complications develop. Then still other germs are spread by coughs and sneezes and the cold hangs on and on. Complications of a cold may include mastoid, sinus, ear and tonsil infections, as well as pneumonia or influenza. Many other ailments follow readily in the path of the cold.

The person with the first sign of a cold should go to bed. Your doctor can give pills or shots to help ward off secondary invaders, and prevent complications.

"When a cold-infected person cannot go to bed, he has a definite obligation to protect others from his illness," Dr. Heustis said. "He should cover his nose and mouth with disposable tissue when he coughs or sneezes, and carefully dispose of all discharges from his nose and throat. He should stand far enough away from others that he will spray them with his cold virus."

Ten precautions which the Michigan Department of Health feels will help to cut the number of serious colds this winter follow:

1. Stay away from the person who has a cold and stay out of crowded places during cold epidemics.
2. Try not to get over-heated or chilled.
3. Avoid sitting in dried out, smoke, chemical or dust-laden air.
4. Dress according to the weather and according to the temperature in which you must work.
5. Get plenty of sleep. Avoid fatigue. Rest when you are tired.
6. Eat regular, well-balanced meals and drink plenty of water. Wash your hands before eating or handling food.
7. Avoid articles which have been sprayed with cold germs or handled by people who have colds.
8. Get some outdoor exercise each day. Let sunshine into your home, office, school or factory.
9. Go to bed at the first sign of a cold.
10. Call your doctor if the signs persist. Follow his advice. Avoid self-medication.

ganization, charged throughout with democratic principles. As a member YOU will have a chance to pool your thinking with that of others who are giving useful service in a notable cause. In the P. T. A. you, as an individual, count and are counted upon.

By joining hands with others who are working for better homes, better schools, and better communities, you can hasten the coming of a better future for all children. There's a peace to be won. This peace is now within the reach of mankind. But only as YOU unite your efforts with those of every other citizen can young minds and hearts be taught the ideas, ideals, and attitudes that will build a true and lasting peace.

You Are Needed in the P. T. A.

Help raise the standards of mental, emotional and spiritual health. Help build a nation of homes where parents and children get along well together and enjoy a satisfying family life.

Put into practice the findings of those who have made a life-work of understanding young people and their development.

Open the doors of educational opportunities to all children—and to all adults as well—who seek knowledge that will make them informed citizens of a country where the rights of the individual will be forever safeguarded.

Take an active part in doing something practical and effective about juvenile delinquency, the most urgent child welfare problem facing America today.

Add your voice to 4,486,855 other voices that demand and keep in force laws that protect children and youth.

You Are Needed in the P. T. A.

Because: The problems of childhood are acute in this period of change from war to peace. Serving shoulder to shoulder with millions of other members YOU can help to make a strong, relentless, and successful attack on all factors that tend to destroy children's happiness and security.

Your influence, added to the influence of millions of other forward-looking parents and teachers, will be a powerful force in determining the kind of education your community will provide for its children.

Your drive, together with the drive of 4,486,855 other alert Americans, can generate the power that is the explicit guarantee of the better world to come.

The great and growing national parent-teacher organization must continue to represent, ever more broadly, the highest hopes and best efforts of the American people to preserve for their children the American way of life.

It's easier to teach by example than by precept. Therefore it is a good idea—a very good idea—to let the boys and girls in your neighborhood see you working actively in the P. T. A. It stamps you in their estimation as a responsible, interesting adult who is very much a part of the world in which they live.

Yes, the P. T. A. Does Need You, for nothing in the world is more worth while or more essential than the welfare of children and youth. This, then, is an invitation to YOU from the National Congress of Parents and Teachers to join one of its 28,000 local P. T. A.'s and to participate fully in its nation-wide program of work.

National President To Speak At Scout Dinner

Mr. Amory Houghton, of Cornwall, New York, President of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America, will be the guest speaker at an Appreciation Dinner for Leaders of the Summer Trails Council, to be held in Bay City, November 8. The occasion will take the form of a potluck at which Scoutmasters, Clubmasters and Senior Leaders will be guests of parents and Unit Committees, and will be held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, starting at 6:30 P. M. More than sixty Troops, Packs, and Senior Units are expected to entertain Leaders. Dinner will be available banquet style also.

Presentation of awards to five new Eagle Scouts as well as recognition of all Eagle ranks earned in the Council during 1948, will be included in the Court of Honor Ceremony. Training Awards for Leaders who have completed the Five Year Training Program, as well as the Council Arrow Head Award for excellence in leadership, will also be presented. Recognition of Silver Beaver award from the National Council, for outstanding service to boyhood, will climax the presentation. The Summer Trails Council, which includes nine counties, may present as many as three Silver Beaver ranks this year. The awards program will be under the direction of Stewart McDonald, Chairman of the Council Advancement Committee and the Silver Beaver Committee of which Paul Wolf is chairman.

Mr. Houghton, who is chairman of the Board of the Corning Glass Company of Corning, New York, travels extensively in his capacity as a volunteer Scouter. He recently completed an air tour through all twelve regions of the National Council, in company with former Chief Scout Executive, Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell.

I'm Glad
We're "Different!"

There's a lot of difference of opinion in our county on the best kind of pasture. Some say alfalfa mixed with clover grass - others say mixed with oats or barley. But all agree that a mixture's better than a single crop.

I sometimes think people are the same way - and the strength of America is its mixture of so many different strains - some from one country, some from another. Right down to little differences: like folks who have a taste for beer and those who prefer cider.

If you were the President of A&P...

What would you do to make your A&P a better place to shop?

Have you ever said to yourself, "If I were the President of A&P, I know what I'd do"? I think there are many A&P customers who would like the opportunity to express themselves on the subject of their A&P. I really believe that from your side of the counter, you know A&P best. That's why I ask your opinion. You can help to make your A&P an even better place to do all your food buying by sending me your suggestions... criticisms... opinions. For instance, what about our service? Is it as courteous and helpful as you would like it to be? Is it prompt and efficient, too? Do you always find all items plainly and correctly price-tagged—as they should be? What in your opinion are we doing that we could do even better? Or what are we not doing that you feel we should do?

I INVITE YOU TO WRITE AND TELL ME HOW YOUR A&P MAY SERVE YOU BETTER

We of A&P want to make our stores the finest places of all in which to shop. That is why your suggestions, criticisms and opinions will be gratefully received and acknowledged. You see there are 100,000 employees of A&P from coast to coast jealously guarding the A&P reputation for courteous, honest, and efficient service. They never want to fail you in any way, but if they do, I am sure that they, as well as I, would appreciate your writing me.
